COMPLAINT
JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Defendants

-----X
Plaintiff, MARY SITGRAVES by her attorney, SUSAN PEPITONE, Esq., as and for her Complaint, respectfully alleges as follows:

1. This action is brought pursuant to Article 15 of the Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law of the State of New York, (“RPAPL § 1515”) inter alia, to compel determination of claims to real property located in New York County, State of New York, and more particularly described as follows: Block number 1960, Lot 67, and known and designated as and by the street address, 38 Edgecombe Avenue, NY, NY 10030 ("the subject property").
2. Plaintiff also seeks damages from the Defendants regarding the subject property.

I. JURISTITION AND VENUE

3. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over plaintiff’s pendent state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.

4. This Court has authority to grant declaratory relief pursuant to the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2201 et seq.
5. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because the property is located within Southern District of New York and a substantial portion of the events giving rise to this complaint occurred within the Southern District of New York.

II. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT AND FACT COMMON TO ALL ALLEGATIONS.

6. The Plaintiff, Mary Sitgraves, on July 2, 1982, became the owner in fee of the real property know as 38 Edgecombe Ave., New York, NY; block 1960 and lot 67, and more fully described and set forth in the attached Schedule A. (Exhibit A)
7. The Plaintiff acquired and holds her estate and interest in and to the subject property under and by virtue of the following conveyance, viz.:
 - (a) Deed to Mary Sitgraves dated and delivered July 2, 1982, and submitted for recording to the New York County, Department of Finance, Office of the City Register, Reel/Pg/File number: 630/151. (Exhibit B)
8. On or about May 15, 2007 MARY SITGRAVES (herein after, “Ms. Sitgraves” or “Mary Sitgraves”) executed a mortgage and note in the amount of $615,700 in favor of BANK OF AMERICA, N.A. (herein after “BANA”) for the subject property. (Exhibit C)

9. On June 25, 2007, BANA recorded said mortgage on the subject property with the New York County, Department of Finance, Office of the City Register, CRFN 2007000327862. (Exhibit D)
10. In early 2009, Ms. Sitgraves began to experience a financial hardship. After the economic recession of 2008, several tenant's residing at the subject property became unemployed and they failed to pay rent. Consequently, when Ms. Sitgraves' tenants failed to pay rent, she became unable to make mortgage payments and defaulted on the mortgage.
11. Ms. Sitgraves contacted Defendant, BANA, and explained her financial hardship. BANA wrote a letter on December 24, 2008, stating in part, "... you have been pre-qualified for a loan modification."
12. As a result of BANA's representations, that Ms. Sitgraves was pre-qualified for a loan modification and their promise to consider her for a loan modification, Ms. Sitgraves applied for a loan modification.
13. BANA requested numerous financial documents from Ms. Sitgraves.
14. The last payment Ms. Sitgraves made on the mortgage was on July 7, 2009.

Attached hereto is the payment history for Ms. Sitgraves' loan. (Exhibit E)
15. While Ms. Sitgraves was in the process of applying for the loan modification, on December 17, 2009 BANA sent a letter accelerating the mortgage which stated in part, "... You can cure this default by making the payment of $56,796.60 dollars by 12/27/2009 ..."

16. On August 21, 2009, September 28, 2009 and January 5, 2010 Ms. Sitgraves submitted various financial documents and letters as requested by BANA.

(Exhibit F)
17. On numerous occasions BANA requested Ms. Sitgraves submit the same financial documents over and over again claiming that they either never received them or that they were stale.
18. On or about June 30, 2010, a housing counselor from the Housing Education Program, a HUD approved counseling service funded in part by Freddie Mac, wrote to Ms. Sitgraves, “. . . we work in partnership with Freddie Mac and Bank of America. Our goal is to assist homeowners who may be experiencing financial hardship avoid foreclosure whenever possible. Based upon our assessment of your case and your finances, it appears that you are a possible candidate for a work out option because of your ability to demonstrate stable income and a willingness to keep the home.” (Exhibit G)
19. On August 30, 2010 the Defendant, BANA, brought a foreclosure action against Ms. Sitgraves by filing a summons and complaint. (Exhibit H)
20. On September 10, 2010 Ms. Sitgraves called BANA’s Foreclosure Department and/or Home Retention Department at 866-422-5871. She was instructed by BANA to, “tell the attorney, (BANA’s attorney), that no sale date is set for foreclosure. Foreclosure is in the Home Retention Department of BANA and I am in the process of modifying my loan.” (Exhibit I)

21. On September 10, 2010 Ms. Sitgraves called the attorneys for BANA and was told that the “foreclosure process would not stop unless the home retention process was completed.”
22. After the foreclosure action was commenced and during the action, BANA refused to work with Ms. Sitgraves to obtain a loan modification, because, as they claimed, the subject property was in foreclosure.
23. In BANA’s foreclosure complaint, and motion for summary judgment, it claimed the mortgage was never assigned and was always owned by BANA. (See, Exhibit H, Complaint, FIRST paragraph.)
24. However, BANA’s claim contradicts Defendant, THE FEDERAL HOME LOAN MORTGAGE CORPORATION’s (A.K.A “FREDDIE MAC”) (herein after, Freddie Mac), website where it claims that it is the owner of the subject mortgage. (Exhibit J)
25. BANA never informed Ms. Sitgraves that her mortgage was sold to Freddie Mac until June 7, 2013, six years after the fact.
26. BANA’s counsel, during the foreclosure action, The Law Firm of Berkman, Henoch, Peterson, Peddy & Fenchel, P.C., sent a letter stating that FREDDIE MAC owns Ms. Sitgraves’ loan. (See, Exhibit J)
27. After BANA commenced the foreclosure against Ms. Sitgraves, it did not file an Request for Judicial Intervention (“RJ”) until three (3) years later—not only did this delay the loss mitigation process for years, but violated the New York Code of Rules and Regulations, (“Uniform Rules”) § 202.12-a.

28. When a plaintiff fails to file an RJJ timely, the case stays in limbo, in what is referred to as the “shadow” docket. Ms. Sitgraves’ case was in limbo from August 30, 2010 to April 2013, approximately three years.
29. After allowing the case to remain on the shadow docket for three years, BANA made a motion for summary judgment on April 1, 2013. (Exhibit K)
30. Ms. Sitgraves answered and filed cross-claims to BANA’s motion for summary judgment on May 1, 2013.
31. Ms. Sitgraves also filed discovery demands on May 1, 2013.
32. BANA submitted a Reply to Ms. Sitgraves’ cross claims on May 21, 2013.
33. On June 14, 2013 BANA’s counsel stated that it was withdrawing their motion for summary judgment and discontinuing the action. (Exhibit L)
34. BANA’s counsel’s reason for discontinuing the action was: “. . . it was determined that the default notice may have been inadequately served . . .” (See, Exhibit L)
35. An examination of BANA’s notices and affirmations reveal in paragraph 21 of its affirmation for summary judgment, BANA’s counsel swears under penalty of perjury that: “In compliance with RPAPL §1304, by letter dated December 17, 2009, Plaintiff forwarded a ninety (90) day notice (the "90 Day Notice") to Defendant which notice strictly complied with the statute. The 90-Day Notice was sent to Defendant at her last known address, by certified mail and first class mail pursuant to RPAPL §1304. See, Karnes Affidavit at 8; 90 Day Notice.” (See, Exhibit K)

36. Furthermore, in BANA's Reply papers, its counsel swore under penalty of perjury, "...the Karnes Affidavit sets forth that Plaintiff served Defendant with the required 90 day pre-foreclosure notice pursuant to RPAL §1304 on December 17, 2009, which defendant does not deny." (Exhibit M)
37. However, suddenly, after years of litigation, numerous motions and pleadings, BANA's counsel swore under penalty of perjury that the 90 day notice "may" be defective, (see, Exhibit L), and it sought withdrawal of their complaint.
38. BANA's counsel swore under penalty of perjury that the 90-day notice was correct for the purposes of pursuing a motion for summary judgment and then in a motion to discontinue the action swore under penalty of perjury that the notice may not be correct.
39. On or about July, 2013 BANA's counsel misrepresented to the Court that defense counsel agreed that Plaintiff should be entitled to withdraw its foreclosure action without any finding of fraud or wrongful conduct, and based upon counsel's misrepresentations, the Court erroneously dismissed the foreclosure action on July 10, 2013.¹ (Exhibit N)
40. Even though the case was dismissed on July 10, 2013 due to BANA's counsel's misrepresentations to the Court, it nonetheless filed a motion to discontinue the action on August 2, 2013.
41. As a result of BANA's misrepresentations to the Court and its frivolous litigation, Ms. Sitgraves suffered damages when she was forced to defend herself, incurring extraordinary litigation costs and lost the opportunity to modify her loan from 2010 through 2013.

42. After the foreclosure action was dismissed, between January 2014 and March 2014, BANA evaluated Ms. Sitgraves for a loan modification.
43. After attempting to apply for a loan modification beginning in 2009, finally on August 23, 2014, five years after Ms. Sitgraves initial application, BANA offered her an unaffordable loan modification without tolling interest or an adjustment in principal.
44. On October 1, 2014 Ms. Sitgraves appealed BANA's loan modification decision.
45. On January 29, 2015, attorney's for BANA wrote a letter claiming that "... the bank is now re-reviewing your client for a loan modification . . . A decision on the modification will be forthcoming."
46. Thereafter, BANA never responded to Ms. Sitgraves request for an appeal of BANA's loan modification decision of August 23, 2014.
47. Since, Ms. Sitgraves defaulted on her mortgage loan on December 24, 2008 and made her last mortgage payment on July 2, 2009, the statute of limitations for enforcement of the mortgage expired and consequently, should be declared null and void and Defendants claimed interest in Plaintiff's property are adverse.
48. Neither Defendant ever pursued their mortgage lien against Ms. Sitgraves after the withdrawal of their foreclosure action in July 2013.

III. PARTIES

49. Plaintiff, Mary Sitgraves, has owned the subject property since 1982, is African American and the subject property is located in a neighborhood predominately of color.

50. On October 13, 2013 Bank of America Corp. was found liable for fraud over defective mortgages sold by its Countrywide unit. After a four-week trial, a federal jury in New York found the bank liable on civil fraud charges.²

51. In February 2013, 49 state attorneys general and the federal government announced a historic joint state-federal settlement with the country's five largest mortgage servicers: Ally/GMAC; Bank of America; Citi; JPMorgan Chase; Wells Fargo. It was the largest consumer financial protection settlement in US history. The agreement settles state and federal investigations finding that the country's five largest mortgage servicers routinely signed foreclosure related documents outside the presence of a notary public and without really knowing whether the facts they contained were correct. Both of these practices violate the law.³

52. According to Freddie Mac's website, Bank of America, N.A., sold the mortgage to Freddie Mac.

53. The Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC), known as Freddie Mac, is a public government-sponsored enterprise (GSE), headquartered in the Tyson's Corner CDP in Fairfax County, Virginia.
54. The FHLMC was created in 1970 to expand the secondary market for mortgages in the US. Along with the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae), Freddie Mac buys mortgages on the secondary market, pools them, and sells them as a mortgage-backed security to investors on the open market. This secondary mortgage market increases the supply of money available for mortgage lending and increases the money available for new home purchases. The name, "Freddie Mac", is a variant of the initialism of the company's full name that had been adopted officially for ease of identification.
55. On September 7, 2008, Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) director James B. Lockhart III announced he had put Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac under the conservatorship of the FHFA. The action has been described as "one of the most sweeping government interventions in private financial markets in decades."

IV. INJURY CAUSED TO THE PLAINTIFF

56. BANA and its attorneys caused Ms. Sitgraves to engage in years of frivolous litigation as outlined above.
57. BANA and/or Freddie Mac reported Ms. Sitgraves as "delinquent" to the credit reporting agencies, damaging her credit.
58. From 2008 to 2013, BANA and/or Freddie Mac held themselves out as willing to evaluate Ms. Sitgraves for a loan modification causing her to submit numerous financial documents under the pretext of evaluating her for a loan modification when in fact they made no genuine efforts at such an evaluation.

59. BANA and/or Freddie Mac have clouded the titled to Ms. Sitgraves property even though they hold an unenforceable mortgage.
